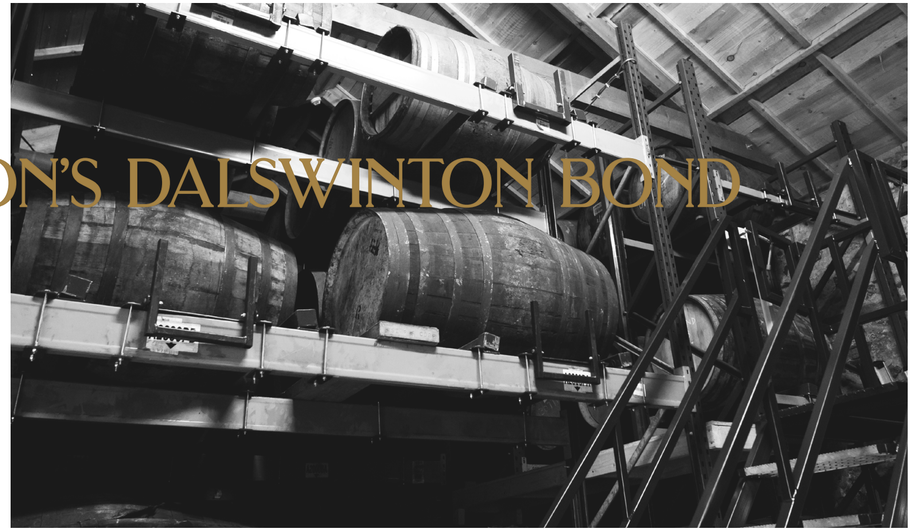
CLAXTON'S DALSWINTON BOND



In 2019, one hundred years after the Landale family bought Dalswinton Estate, Claxton's moved into Sandbed House on the banks of the River Nith and the Dalswinton Bond was born.

Claxton's Dalswinton Bond not only focuses on the bottling process but also on refining and enhancing whisky through cask maturation.

With original stone barns and grain stores dating back as far as the 1800s, an extensive restoration project, in partnership with the estate, was undertaken to bring the buildings at Sandbed back into full use. The extra effort proved very much worth it, resulting in traditional dunnage style warehousing, alongside more modern racked facilities, perfect for both long-term and short-term whisky maturation in a beautiful Scottish countryside environment.

Quality focused and deliberately selected, the casks used at Dalswinton Bond are sourced globally from specialist producers with as much care and attention as the spirit that fills them. Variety and individuality are at the forefront when combining spirit and wood for maturation, and every shape, size and type of cask is used for a specific reason.

The focus given to this process transfers into each bottling and also reflects the forward-thinking energy and ingenuity of the Dalswinton Estate, making it the perfect location for our casks to mature.

EXPLORATION SERIES

The Exploration Series is focused on bringing quality products to the market at an affordable price point. It still offers the depth of quality expected from our premium ranges but is targeted at consumers who are discovering whisky.

In an attempt to make the Scottish whisky regions more accessible, this series consists of a selection of excellent whiskies in each release that cover a broad range of regions, wood influence, and age ranges. Each bottle has co-ordinates printed on the North and West points of the compass, which give drinkers a clue as to what distillery the whisky is from.

By releasing whiskies that are not distillery specific, we can release casks, that would otherwise be inaccessible, at a lower price point.

Attached to each Exploration Series bottling is a Claxton's coin; collect five of these coins and as a thank you, customers will be eligible to buy a Coin Collectors release at a greatly reduced rate.

WAREHOUSE NO.1 & NO.8

Part of the Claxton's flagship range, Warehouse No.1 & 8 represent top-quality, premium bottlings taken from across the whisky regions. Each whisky is bottled at its peak and is part of the wider Claxton's maturation program which focuses on the individual spirit type, cask finish, and flavour profile.

The Warehouse No.1 range is bottled at cask strength, is non-chill filtered and always at natural colour. This range is bottled on a cask by cask basis, meaning each release is limited and exclusive. These are exceptional and one off bottlings designed with optimum flavour and finish in mind.

The Warehouse No.8 range is the same principle as the Warehouse No.1 range but focuses on smaller casks and octaves. This allows us to create small out turns of otherwise inaccessible whiskies.

Bottled in our eye-catching Jens decanters and in an art deco style, the Warehouse No.1 and Warehouse No.8 range are perfect for standing out on a back bar or drinks cabinet.

DALSWINTON SERIES

The Dalswinton Bond is situated in the rolling green hills of the Dalswinton Estate in Dumfries & Galloway and, like many before us, we have taken inspiration from these idyllic surroundings. The original Dalswinton Series celebrated the unique location of the bond and exemplified some of the rarest and best liquid each whisky region has to offer. The Second Edition is no different. This series includes a timeline which follows the notable history of the Dalswinton Estate. Each decanter depicts a significant scene in the Estates' long and illustrious history.

Each individual cask was brought to Dalswinton for the final stages of its maturation in our traditional dunnage style warehouse, Warehouse No 1. After many years of regular monitoring, sampling and evaluation, these jewels have been bottled at their peak to best showcase their elegant, complex and varied profiles.

Every drop of precious liquid in the Second Edition has been bottled at natural cask strength, natural colour and, of course, non-chill filtered to preserve the whisky just as it was when it left the oak cask.

Each whisky in this collection has been selected from some of Scotland's most prestigious coastal distilleries for the quality and world-renowned distinctive character they offer. Every bottle in the collection has been aged for over a generation and bottled at peak.

CORE RANGE

Dalswinton Bond is situated in the rolling green hills of the Dalswinton Estate in Dumfries & Galloway, Scotland, and, like many before us, we have taken inspiration from these idyllic surroundings to create the four distinctive Scotch whiskies that make up Claxton's Core Range Selection.

These four very distinctive products have been created over many years with a devoted focus to produce the absolute best quality Scotch whisky at the absolute best value price point.

Of equal importance is each and every one of the Claxton's Core Range Selection offers something completely unique in taste and profile to other Scotch whiskies, along with an intriguing tale of its origin and production method.

Quite simply, these whiskies have been lovingly and painstakingly selected, matured, vatted and blended until they have reached a stand out quality amongst their peers.

Released in Autumn 2024, the 12 yo Red Comyn, 10 yo Glencarrick and Smoking Furnace Blend are joining the already released and very successful 30 yo Grain Barn to create the Claxton's Core Range Selection.
